Programme Objectives: Sanskrit literature is a vast repository, covering several genres. As most people are not conversant with the language, they have to rely on secondary sources and translations. However, the true beauty of the text cannot completely be comprehended and appreciated unless it is read in the original. As our faculty have different areas of specialisations, we can read these materials from the perspectives of philosophy, literary appreciation and also discuss their relevance to modern society.

The programme will be conducted in audit mode. Those who will attend more than 75% of classes, will get the certificate of completion.

Every year, a single text or thematic selections from a collection of texts will be offered for the text-reading activity. The texts could include:

- Bhagavad Gita
- Selections from Upanishads
- Kautiliya's Arthashastra
- Buddhist Sanskrit literature: Buddhacarita / Lalitavistara / Bodhicaryavatara

Eligibility: Minimum HSC or equivalent examination. Knowledge of Sanskrit will be helpful but is not essential.
